

Out-of-the-Ordinary Yards

Looking to do something different in your yard? Experts share cutting-edge ideas, practical advice, and answer your questions about making your yard more useful and attractive for you, your neighbors, and wildlife.

- Creating a “bee lawn”: James Wolfen, University of Minnesota Turf Management
- Doing more with native plants: Tina Dombrowski, Como Park Conservatory
- Edible landscapes: Jennifer Porwit, Ramsey County Master Gardener
- Fruit and ornamental trees: Joe Baltrukonis, Ramsey County Master Gardener
- Pollinator-friendly habitat: Judi Petkau, Big River Big Woods Wild Ones

The free presentation is part of the District 10 Como Community Council Sunday Series.

Sunday May 21

1-2:30 p.m.

Orchard Park

Recreation Center

875 W. Orchard

BONUS!

Como Community Plant

and Seed Exchange

2:30-4 p.m.

